Renewal Application for Graduate Assistantship

The Department is now considering assistantships for next year. Assistantships are not automatically renewed. As a general rule, the department provides support for up to three years, assuming adequate progress is made toward the degree in the Department of Communication and job duties are performed adequately. Rumble Fellows are provided with support for up to two years after the Rumble year.

Current Graduate Assistants should complete this renewal application if they are interested in continuing in their role for the next academic year. Please submit this form to the Graduate Secretary.
