The Master of Arts in Communication with a Concentration in Media Studies program is academically oriented and is for students interested in advanced study of television, film, and other mass media. This degree is appropriate for students interested in media processes and research, media effects, media theory and criticism, film criticism, and scholarly research and writing about radio, television, and film. It is an appropriate preparatory degree for doctoral work.

Students entering the M.A. Media Studies program without significant, recent experience in digital video production must take COM 5350: Media Arts Production in the first semester of coursework.

One required course:

COM 7000: Introduction to M.A. Studies in Communication (3 cr) _______

One theory course:

COM 7520: Theories of Media Effects (3 cr) _______
COM 7530: Critical Mass Communication Theory (3 cr) _______

One research methods course:

COM 6530: Audience Measurement and Survey Techniques (3 cr) _______
COM 7260: Quantitative Research Methods in Communication (3 cr) _______
COM 7360: Qualitative Research Methods in Communication (3 cr) _______
COM 7510: Seminar in Mass Media Research (3 cr) _______
COM 7580: Content Analysis (3 cr) _______
COM 7590: Criticism of Mass Media (3 cr) _______
COM 7600: Media and Cultural Historiography (3 cr) _______
COM 7610: Feminist Media Theory and Criticism (3 cr) _______

Four elective COM courses 5000-level or higher, appropriate to the Concentration. These courses are in addition to above or any other 5000-level courses used to fulfill Concentration requirements.

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

One elective course numbered 7001 or higher.

________________________________________________________________________

Additional elective courses selected in consultation with the adviser resulting in a minimum total of 35 credits. These electives should primarily be courses in Media Arts and Studies.

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

One of the following capstone plan options:

- Plan A: Six credits of COM 8999: Master’s Thesis, and additional courses, totaling 35 credits
Plan B: Three credits of COM 7999: Master’s Essay, and additional courses, totaling 35 credits

Plan C: Coursework selected from the above requirements, totaling a minimum of 35 credits